Fentress Bests Thorburn in Opener and Goodbred Gets Decision Over Suggs.

BY BOB PIGUE.

ITTING THORRURN and Suggs hard, (Y. Barger and his band of Chicks took the Atlanta Crackers into camp twice, at Russwood Wednesday afternoon. The ecores were 6 to 3 and 3 to 2, with the Tribe on the favouable end of the chewining cards held by Chief Barger. Memphis moved into sixth place as a result of the twin victory.

The opening affair was decided in the second inning, while the final battle was not settled until the ninth, when Fug Griffin, Memphis first sacker, singled with the bases loaded, sending Lou Christoshury, as ex-Cracker, acroes the plate with the winning ticket. In the first inning of the first gaine the Crackers jumped on Roy Fentress, Chick spitsaller, and piled up two runs. Dykes lifted an easy fly to Carroll, who muffed in Galloway walked and Herndon was safe on Jack Lewis error, Dykes coming over on the mispiay. Fratchi's sacrifice fly to Barger scored Galloway. Second Game.

The second game was a battle between Tiny Goodbred, Chick spitball pitcher, and Bill Suggs, Cracker left hander. The Chicks apparently had the game won, having secred two runs, and the contest was to have been a seven-inning affair. Neither team scored until the fifth when the Tribe barged one. Christenbury opened with a single to right and High lifted to Herndon. Carroll grounded out and Griffin got an inflaid single. Christenbury scored on Lewis' hot drive off second base. In the sixth Barger doubled to left and Manda sacrificed. Block's sacrifice fly sent Barger over.

The Crackers got busy in their last inning and tied the score in the seventh. Bratchi walked as a starter and Styles doubled to right, sending Bratchi te third. Therburn's infleid out sent Ivaichi over and Moore's shot off Goodbred registered Styles with the tying marker.

BOSTON RED SOX MISS DUFFY LEWIS

Californian a Big Factor in Yankee Drive.

The Boston team individually and as a whole greatly regrets the passing of Duffy Lewis. Likewise the pastons of the game in the Hub miss the work of the hard-litting Californian, writes Ed Bang in the Cleveland Nows. No one in the history of the game in that city has ever played left field more acceptably than Lewis. In Hoston the fansefer to left field at Fenway park as Duffy's cliff. The ground as it approaches the fence in left field is slightly elevated, hence the name cliff. It is a hard field to play and many a bail has dropped safe against the left field fence in the last year or so that would have been easy outs for Lewis.

The Boston players are not discouraged at the slow start the club has made. They can offer any number of excuses for the fallure of the club to get away to a fixing start. To a man, however, they believe that if the club does fall to grab the bunting, that said failure will be due as much to the absence of Lewis from left field as any other reason that might be cited. Boston has already lost a great number of games by one run this year.

In a number of those settes the winning runs have gone over on balls hit to left field, when either Buth or Gainer was playing the position, and usually a perfect Duffy Lewis play would have cut down the deciding run. Ruth has already discovered that it is far more difficult to throw strikes from the outfield.

Boston players feel that with Lewis in teft field and Rabe Buth starring as a pitcher and pinch hitter, the club would never have missed the passing of Leonard and Shore. The going of Leonard and Shore of the players with that Shore and Leonard were still members of the pitching staff.

HAGEN VS. BRADY.

FTER HAVING floundered in the mire of last place ever since the first day of the 1919 season, the Chicks have at last pulled up stakes, silently folded their tents and slipped away, having sub-rented the cellar to the Chattaneous Lookouts, who are showing signs of taking up their abode there permanently. The Chicks are in sixth place, having pounded their way to this respectable berth during the home stay which closed Wednesday with a double-header victory over the Atlanta Crackers.

with the distance between the leaders and the Chicks only the matter of four or five games, it may be readily seen that with the present brand of ball the or five games, it may be readily seen that with the present brand of ball the Memphis club is playing, the Tribe is going to give the first division outlits plenty to do in repelling them. The Chicks got away to a poor start and have been sadly handicapped, but they appear to have at last struck their stride and that they are going to hammer their way into the first division seems to be certain right now.

The addition of George Block, the Chicks' new catcher, was a wise move and a timely one, for Block is a dependable backstop and will add considerable strength to the 'ocal club. Meyers will be retained until Red Smith is able to get back in harness, which seems a long way off at present.

The club opens in Little Rock for a three-game series Thursday afternoon, and will jump back to Memphis next Sunday for one game, then going on the road until June 29.

The crippled Crackers were in a sad plight in their double-header Wednesday, a catcher playing first base and a pitcher being on duty in the outlield. But when the Tribe was down there were no crocodile tears shed over their hard luck and they were kicked and buffeted around by every team in the league, so the Crackers will have to take their medicine until they can get their team intact again.

CHRISTENBURY STARS.

CHRISTENBURY STARS.

Whenever one club cases a player off, he invariably shines against the team that shifted him to another ball club. This was proven in the case of Lou Christenbury, Meniphis shortstop, who was turned over to the Chicks by Manager Charley Frank, of Atlanta. Christenbury was the big factor in the twin victory of Memphis Wednesday.

In the first game Christenbury opened with a three-bagger in the first round and scored on a hit. In the sixth inning Chris tried to bunt and was hit by the ball, resulting in Fentress acgring. In the eighth Chris singled, but couldn't get anything to ride home on.

In the second game ne got on the first time up via an error and then after High had sacrificed, Chris stole third, but he was left stranded. In the fifth inning Christenbury opened with a single and eventually scored, in the seventh Chris opened with a single off the pitcher. In the ninth Christenbury dropped a Texas leaguer back of first that paved the way for the winning run, scoring when Griffin singled.

Defensively Christenbury's work was jam-up all the way. It was a Christenbury day all the way. It was a Christenbury day all the way. It was a Christenbury as he watched his castoff knock the cover off the pill and have such a big part in the double defeat of the Crackers.

To Jack Lewis, Chick second base-or crackers.

To Jack Lewis, Chick second baseman, goes the credit for pulling the most sensational fielding play of the day. Jacques executed his circus grab in the fifth inning of the final game. There were two Crackers aboard the sacks, one on second and one on third, when Sugge hit what appeared to be a Texas leasure hack of first. Lewis and Barger both started after it, and Jack stretched full length and gathered it in after a hard run. It saved the game beyond a doubt, for both runners had sirendy crossed the plate, and as the contest was to have been only a seven-inning affair, the Crackers would have copped 4 to 2.

AS S. L. UMPIRE

Hadley Williams, alias Bulldog, who umpired in the Southern league for several seasons, has been appointed to succeed Orth Collins, who has been handling the indicator in the Dixie major since the season started. Collins recently turned in his resignation.

The appointment of Bulldog Williams to umpire brings back to the league one of the most capable officials that have ever held the indicator in this or any other league. Williams was dismissed by Former President Bob Baugh en account of a row he had with Rick Woodward, Carlton Molesworth and Pitcher Black in Birmingham. All the participants in the affair were fined in police court, with Woodward paying the fines.

Williams was given the worst of the deal, and since that time special appeals have been made by the Birmingham club officials for the reinstatement of Williams, who has always been a very capable official. Williams applied for a job at the first of the season, but his application came in too late.

Collins served as a base umpire, and only recently decided to pass up the job, having found out that it was not to his liking.

Williams will get on the job at once.

ent-day boxers to fit themselves for a battle differ considerably from those followed by the oid-timers.

The main reason for the change is the fact that the present-day millers train for speed primarily and endurance secondarily. The oid boys used to foughen themselves for a grueling, heart-breaking, man-crushing battle. Endurance was the prime requisite a decade and more ago. Often it was the man who could take the most punishment who eventually won the long grawn out battles.

Today the man who can step faster, tap quicker and step away quickly has the edge.

The reason of this change is the cutting down of the rounds from 20 or more to 10 and 12 cantos.

The Ambrose took kindly to the delivery of "Cutie" Strickfaden Wednesday at Hodges field and defeated the Courthouse Sluggers in the weekly game of the Ambuck league. The game ended with the count 7 to 6, the Ambroses holding the long end.

A total of nine hits was made off Strickfaden. Keefe, Pendergrant and Winfrey each made two safeties, one of the former's going for two bases.

Cole and Perry hurled for the Winners. Perry relieved Cole in the final inning, and never permitted a man to reach first base.

The catching of Joe Pendergrast was one of the features of the game. He played a heady game, and nipped a runter at the plate on a hard chance.

One of the important changes in training methods is the cutting down close to elimination of road work. Fitz-simmons, Corbett, Jeffries, Nelson and those gentry ran and walked miles a day for weeks before their battles. They developed powerful leg muscles. They developed powerful leg muscles. The new type of fighters do little road work—simply enough to develop their wind. They turn to rope skipping and shadow bexing to develop speed and springiness in their rootwork.

The turn to speed rather than endurance has shortened the training period. Dempsey and Willard are counting on six weeks training to prep themselves for their battle at Tolado, July 4. Jim Corbett spent a year training for his battle with Jim Jeffries at Coney Island. Jeffries spent 1s months training for his farcical fight with Jack Johnson.

Bag punching seems to have fallen into disrepute as a training adjunct, The old-timers could play the fiddiers' hornpipe on the bag.

Bob Fitzsimmons had the oddest training stunt of all fighters, past or present. Bob pickled his face and hands in brine for weeks before a fight. He believed the solution toughened the skin and prevented his face from being out or his knuckles being split.

Here is Outfielder McCarty, of the Memphis Gaa team, who is reputed to be one of the real sensations in the batting line in the amateur ranks. The records bear out the fact that McCarty is walloping the pill with a seeming enmity, and this alone makes him a valuable member of the Gas team. His fielding is above fair and middling also. McCarty's hitting borders nigh on to the .500 mark.

TOLEDO, O., June 12.—John J. Reisler, known to the boxing fraternity as "John the Barber," a former manager of Jack Dempsey, has threatened to bring suit here in an attempt to restrain Dempsey from meeting Jess Willard in the heavyweight championship contest here July 4 unless he is paid $19,000 which amouit, it was said today Reisler claims is due him out of the $27,500 the challenger is to receive for boxing Willard. Reisler made known his demands to Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest.

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, said he had taken proper legal action to protect Dempsey's interests. Ray J. Cannon, an attorney of Miwaukee, Wis., who has opposed several suits filed by Reisler in an attempt to regain the management of Dempsey is scheduled to arrive today. Rearns said, to fight the threatened suit.

Willard and Dempsey are reaping a rich harvest as a result of the big crowds which continue to pay to visit their training camps on the shores of Maumee bay. A crowd of 700 to 1,000 persons can be counted upon with regularity on week days and the attendance at the rival camps on Sundays usually reaches the 2,500 mark.

The contest is still more than three weeks off yet the crowds continue to grow daily and the business representatives of the boxers are planning on enlarging the canvassed enclosed arena to accommodate 5,000 persons expected to crowd the camps for the last week preceding the match.

ROBBY REFUSES TO BE A PIRATE

And Thus Three-Cornered Baseball Deal Is Frustrated

The recent move of Dave Robertson in refusing to join the Firates, to which club he had been sold by the Giants, adds another chapter to the three-cortered deal which has interested the big league fans for many weeks. The latest bolt on the part of the Virginian is the direct result of the failure of the three-cornered deal, planued by the Giants, Cardimis and Senators, to materialise because of the opposition of Barney Dreyfuss. When Dreyfuss refused to waive on Robertson, so that Dave might be sent to Washington, "Doc" Lavan from Washington to the Cardinals and Mike Gonzales from the Cardinals and Clark Griffith made new plans, in the formation of which they interested Dreyfuss. The new plan was calculated to bring about results similar to those aimed at in the original scheme and had a cash basis.

Griffith, under the new arrangement, was to sell Lavan to the Cardinals.

Griffith, under the new arrangement, was to sell Lavan to the Cardinals, Rickey was to be reimbursed by cash handed over by the Glants in exchange for Gonzales and McGraw was to got back the amount paid for the Cuban catcher by selling Robertson to the Pirates. There wasn't a hitch in the perpetration of the first phases of the deal. Lavan waived out of the American leadie, was sold to the Cardinals and Gonzales was purchased by the Giants. The sale of Robertson was consummated, but Dave prompily balked when informed of it. Robertson is determined to play in Washington and Griffith would like to have him, but Dreyfuss is determined that the only way the Virginian will get out of the league is by the route just taken by Davy.
